

Tri-State Chinese American Chemical Society (CACS) 2018 Symposium

Symposium theme: The Changing Face of Chemistry: Meeting Future Challenges

Speakers: Senior R&D leaders from industry, distinguished educators from universities as well as Influential entrepreneurs.

Vendor show: A vendor exhibition will be held in parallel to podium presentations. Vendors are welcome to participate.

Career opportunities: Several companies will post job openings and collect resumes at the symposium. In addition, a career consultant from ACS will provide career advices on-site.

Time: 8:00AM - 5:00PM, Saturday, June 23, 2018

Location: Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy, Lecture Hall 131, Rutgers University, Busch Campus, 160 Frelinghuysen Road, Piscataway, NJ 08854

Cost: Free and open to public. Complimentary breakfast and lunch will be provided.

Registration: <http://tristatecacs.org> for registration, additional information and updates

Contact: info@tristatecacs.org

CACS- Tristate Chapter is a nonprofit organization that has served the Tri-state region since 1981. Its mission is to provide opportunities of self-development, learning and relationship-building for Chinese chemical professionals from the United States and Greater China in the chemical and pharmaceutical industries. The symposium has, in the past, featured presentations and panel discussions participated by ACS presidents, corporate leaders, entrepreneurs and policy makers on topics ranging from global business and career opportunities, challenges that face the profession of chemistry, healthcare, energy, environmental issues, and the place of chemistry in humanity.