

Senior Scientist (New Jersey)

Compensation: TBD

Employment type: full-time

Senior Scientist (Princeton)

Compensation: TBD

This is an exciting opportunity to work within a fast paced and busy environment of a dynamic pharmaceutical analysis contract research organization. Immediate opening for a self motivated and result oriented Senior Scientist in our Analytical Services.

Responsibilities:

- Experience with Assay, Impurity and Dissolution Methods Development and Validation.
- Experience with HPLC, GC, UV/VIS, Dissolution and other typical QC Analytical instrumentation.
- Responsible for serving on various project teams to fulfill activities as assigned.
- Responsible for following laboratory schedules (as applicable).
- Responsible to ensure good documentation practices are followed.
- Individual is capable of independently troubleshooting analytical and instrument problems.
- Individual will initiate and conduct OOS/OOT laboratory investigations.
- Individual must possess a thorough knowledge, understanding and ability to apply typical chemical analysis techniques
- At least 2 years working in the analytical chemistry profession is required
- Leadership experience and/or skills

M.S. or B.S. in analytical chemistry or biochemistry or related science

Able to be flexible of the work time if necessary.

Skills:

- Solid laboratory skills
- Good organization skills
- Strong report writing skills
- Effective oral and communication skills

Principals only. Recruiters, please don't contact this job poster.

do NOT contact us with unsolicited services or offers

- Principals only. Recruiters, please don't contact this job poster.
- do NOT contact us with unsolicited services or offers